

Judge Hints Courts Can Override President In Emergency

Seizure Power At Stake In Federal Court

Washington (AP) — U. S. District Judge David A. Pine indicated surprise yesterday at a government attorney's contention that the courts have no authority in time of emergency to interfere with such actions as President Truman's seizure of the nation's steel mills.

The judge put off until today completion of legal arguments on the steel industry's plea for an injunction which would void Truman's seizure. But he said that when arguments have ended, probably today, he will rule as promptly as possible.

Industry attorneys urged immediate action, contending that the government is about to take action which they said will result in "almost incalculable" damage to the steel companies.

Holmes Baldridge, an assistant attorney general replying for the government, argued that the President has unlimited power in time of declared emergency and that the courts have no authority to review his executive orders. The steel seizure was such an order.

Judge Pine expressed surprise, noting that the President himself declares the emergency.

He told Baldridge that under his theory, the government could seize him, Baldridge, and order him executed and that he would have no recourse to the courts.

"I'll have to think that one over," Baldridge replied.

Truman defended his seizure of the steel mills, telling his news conference he acted because the country was in what he termed its greatest emergency. But new challenges to his seizure order were voiced on Capitol Hill.

Truman brushed off as politics a move by some Republican House members to impeach him because of his seizure of the steel industry on April 8. The GOP congressmen have a right to try, he said, but he has a pretty good defense.

Secretary of Defense Lovett told one of three Senate groups inquiring into the seizure that any prolonged stoppage of steel production "could result in tragedy and disaster."

At another of Senate hearings on the question, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce asserted that the President does not have authority to command "the people of the United States." If he did, the chamber said, he could become a dictator overnight.

The House voted for still another investigation into the steel dispute.

But it was in Federal district court here that the most direct challenge was made. In what was in effect an appeal from a previous decision that the industry had not been damaged by the seizure, an industry attorney said the situation now has "drastically changed."

The attorney, Theodore Klendi, argued that the government is not trying "to preserve production of steel" but rather is attempting to "foist on management" wage increases for the CIO steelworkers. Klendi spoke for six major steel companies which asked Judge Pine to issue a temporary injunction which would forbid Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, technical boss of the industry, from taking any steps to carry out the President's seizure order.

The industry had lost an earlier attempt to get such an order, when Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled there had been no showing of irreparable damage.

Indications were that the administration might act next week to put into effect pay raises for the 650,000 members of Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers Union. Officials have declined to say how big the raise will be.

There was no indication the steel industry seemed anxious to accept the government's boosting of steel price ceilings by $3 a ton.

Nunan Collected Fee For Calls

Washington (AP) — Digging into the financial affairs of Joseph D. Nunan, former internal revenue commissioner, House investigators learned yesterday that he collected a $24,985 fee in 1947 for "three or four" telephone calls on a tax case.

Thomas Sullivan, a Chicago attorney, testified that he had conferred frequently with Nunan about the case when Nunan was the nation's chief tax collector.

Then when Nunan resigned as revenue commissioner in the middle of 1947 to return to private law practice, Sullivan said, Nunan was employed by Sullivan's client to "speed up" action by the Revenue Bureau.

"He knew who to call," Sullivan said.

OPS Uncovers Black Market In Potatoes

Philadelphia (AP) — The head of the area Office of Price Stabilization said yesterday a "large black market" in potatoes has been uncovered in the Philadelphia area.

John O'Neill, acting director, said Philadelphia's "might well be mulcted out of as much as $150,000 a week."

He said an investigation started last Friday showed at least 50 retailers were charging as much as 80 per cent above the retail ceiling prices.

Some 312 wholesale and retail outlets for potatoes, he said, had been investigated. The probes found overcharges up to 36 cents per five-pound bag, O'Neill added.

O'Neill said the retailers were not to blame. Many retailers, he said, had been forced to buy potatoes at what he termed "outrageous prices" or to subscribe to tie-in sales "in order to have potatoes at all."

Court Upholds Conviction Of Ohio Congressman

Washington (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the conviction of Rep. Walter E. Brehm of Ohio on charges that he unlawfully took campaign contributions from a woman clerk in his office.

The 59-year-old Ohio Republican was convicted last Spring of accepting $1,000 in 1948 from Mrs. Emma S. Craven. She no longer works for him.

Brehm was fined $5,000 and given a suspended five-to-15-month jail sentence. Payment of the fine was held up, pending outcome of the appeal.

The Federal corrupt practices act makes it a crime for members of Congress to accept political gifts from government employees.

Brehm contended in his appeal that the government failed to prove that any of Mrs. Craven's contributions were for his campaign for reelection. This was charged in the indictment.

Alternate Delegate Contest Results Not Yet Determined

It was still not clear last night which Democrats had won the posts of alternate delegates to the national convention from the 15th District.

Newspapers telephoned delegates, county election boards and each other, but no one in Monroe, Northampton or Carbon Counties was able to say what men had won all three.

In each county the situation was reported the same: a scattering of precinct votes for a wide variety of names; Few write-in

Reds Call Off Discussion Of POW Exchange

Munsan, Korea, Friday, AP — Communist negotiators today called off secret talks at Panmunjom on prisoner exchange in a Korean armistice. A U. N. spokesman said the Red move came after the Allies suggested the talks be recessed indefinitely.

Col. George W. Hickman, U. N. staff officer, said the U. N. command wants to resurvey its stand in the light of this new development.

The Reds said they wanted to call off the closed door talks, a U. N. spokesman reported, because the Allies has used them "to deceive the world on this central question of the negotiations and to carry out their aim of forcibly retaining captured personnel of this side."

Allied and Red staff officers trying to solve the problem of truce supervision met only 14 minutes. A U. N. spokesman said the enemy is "still waiting for something."

These officers will meet again Saturday. The truce supervision group is tightly deadlocked over the Red nomination of Soviet Russia as a post-armistice neutral inspector and the Allied demand for a ban on rebuilding airfields during an armistice.

Allied warplanes yesterday pounced on eight Communist tanks about 500 yards from Allied lines and knocked out one of them, the Fifth Air Force reported today.

Earlier the Air Force had said, on the basis of ground reports, that eight tanks were destroyed.

U. S. Sabre jet pilots probably destroyed two MIGs and damaged two others in a battle over North Korea's "Mig Alley" yesterday at dusk, the Fifth Air Force said.

Daylight Time Begins Sunday

By The Associated Press — Millions of city folks will turn their clocks ahead one hour Sunday for the annual start of five months of Daylight Saving Time.

The official hour for the change-over in nearly all of the 22 states and the District of Columbia which go on daylight time is 2 a. m. (local time).

Some 65,000,000 persons will be affected.

Rural areas are pretty solidly opposed to adding an hour this Sunday and taking it back Sept. 28. Protests from farmers led to the repeal of a national daylight law back in 1919, and since then the Federal government has left the clock-changing to states, and most states have left it up to their various communities.

During World War Two, the whole nation shifted its living habits to DST to save electricity and fuel. But since then, the country has gone back to city folks on daylight, country folks on "sun time."

HST's Story Of Sending Ultimatum To Stalin Toned Down By Secretary

Washington (AP) — President Truman stirred up a shortlived sensation yesterday by saying he sent Premier Stalin an ultimatum—backed up by the presence of U. S. troops and ships in the Middle East—and forced the Russians to get out of Iran in 1946.

Truman's "disclosure," which he volunteered at a news conference, startled and even amazed official circles until the White House, some three hours later, announced officially that:

One—The President did not send a personal note to Stalin that led to Russia's evacuation of the Middle East country, and

Two—Truman used the word ultimatum in a "non-technical, layman sense"—that is, he didn't mean to imply he told the Russians to get out or we would go to war.

The President meant, it was explained, that U. S. leadership exerted in the United Nations, A. U. N. spokesman said the enemy is "still waiting for something."

These officers will meet again Saturday. The truce supervision group is tightly deadlocked over the Red nomination of Soviet Russia as a post-armistice neutral inspector and the Allied demand for a ban on rebuilding airfields during an armistice.

Publishers Censure Truman For Seizing Steel Plants

New York, AP—The American Newspaper Publishers Association censured President Truman yesterday for his seizure of the steel industry and declared it would "resist and defeat" a similar move against the press "by any president."

A resolution on the seizure issue was adopted at a closed session of the annual meeting of the ANPA with only four dissenting votes among the 500 publishers attending.

It challenged any concept that a president of the United States has an "inherent power" to seize either the nation's press or radio.

While this action was being taken here, President Truman told a White House news conference that the thought of seizing the nation's newspapers and radio stations has never occurred to him.

It is difficult to imagine the government taking such a step, Truman said.

The publishers' concern for the future of the press and radio followed the President's discussion of his seizure powers at a news conference last week.

At that time Truman was asked whether he could seize the press and radio as he did the steel industry. Under similar circumstances, he replied, the President has to act for whatever is for the best of the country.

Charles F. McCahill, of the Cleveland News, ANPA president, said Truman's statement yesterday "does not square" with what he said last week.

"I don't think he was misquoted," McCahill said.

They turned him over to the buxom movie star last Fall. She arrived here empty-handed from a European tour she said was aimed at finding a baby for adoption.

In a case billed as a warning to others, the Kavanaghs were summoned before Bow St. Magistrate Sir Laurence Dunne yesterday on a charge of "unlawfully permitting the care and possession of an infant to be transferred." They pleaded guilty, but were discharged on condition of good behavior for 12 months.

Dunne was told the film star—the wife of football player Bob Waterfield — intends to adopt Tommy as a companion for another adopted child, Tracy, 9 months.

In Hollywood, Miss Russell expressed delight that the Kavanaghs were freed of blame in allowing her to take Tommy to America.

bringing about Russian withdrawal from Iran.

The President brought up the Iran matter himself in outlining some of the actions he and other presidents have taken to meet national emergencies.

He said the country right now is faced with an emergency as great as any in its history. He said it is trying to keep free nations armed, and keep our forces in Korea from being shot in the back.

And that, he declared, is why he felt it necessary to take over the strike-threatened steel industry.

Truman added mildly that a congressional move to impeach him for seizing the steel mills is just a political proposition, adding that he has a pretty good defense.

He said also that he never has given any thought to taking over the nation's newspapers and radio stations, despite a lot of published hooey to that effect.

The White House "clarification" of Truman's statements about Iran were pretty much at odds with what the President himself said, and repeated under questioning, at the news conference—adding that he was telling the correspondents something not previously divulged.

He said that in 1946—at first he said 1945, then decided it might have been later—he had to send an ultimatum to the head of the Soviet Union to get out of Iran. The Russians got out, the President said, because this country was in a position then to meet a situation of that kind.

This ultimatum, he said at another point, was a message from him to Stalin and told the Russian leader that unless he did get out of Iran by a certain date we would put some people in there.

The U. S. Truman noted, had ships in the Persian Gulf then, and had plenty of troops in the neighborhood.

Roger Tubby, assistant presidential press secretary, issued the subsequent "clarification." He told reporters:

"The President was using the term ultimatum in a non-technical layman sense. He was referring to United States leadership in the United Nations Council, and through diplomatic channels, in the Spring of 1946, which was a major factor in bringing about Soviet withdrawal from Iran."

"On March 6, 1946, a note was sent from the U. S. Government to the Soviet Government making our position perfectly plain with respect to the situation in Iran. This note was published on March 7. As you probably recall, the Russians withdrew their troops from Iran in May, 1946."

The note had demanded that the Russians live up to their treaty obligations to protect the sovereignty of Iran.

Crest Passes Kansas City

Kansas City (AP) — Kansas City stood the strain yesterday as the Upper Missouri River's greatest flood surged past on its way to the sea.

"I'm smiling today because it looks awfully good," said Brig. Gen. Don G. Shingler of Omaha, Missouri River division engineer.

But when the record flood on the Missouri is passing your door, and you're sitting behind dirt, you have to be watchful."

Shingler explained the Missouri is carrying about 400,000 cubic feet of water a second—much less than the paralyzing flood of 1951. Last year the rampaging Kaw (Kansas) River dumped more than 500,000 cubic feet into the Missouri at Kansas City.

That disaster last July caused almost half a billion dollars damage in the industrialized bottomland of Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo.

Yesterday none of those rich industrial districts suffered as the river's crest reached Kansas City.

Stassen Manager Says Ike To Win

Washington, AP — Daniel C. Gainey, manager of the Stassen-for-President campaign here, said yesterday he thinks Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has the "best chance" to win the Republican presidential nomination.

Gainey made the statement in response to questions at a press luncheon where he formally announced the closing of the local campaign headquarters for Harold E. Stassen.

He said he is not counting Stassen out of the race but clearly indicated a belief that Eisenhower will win.

German Reds Start Trouble

Berlin (AP) — About 25,000 Communist blue shirts stormed West Berlin's frontier last night in a professed peace rally that resulted in a few cracked heads and 14 arrests.

The regimented youths of East Berlin were sent to stir up trouble with shouts of "Ami, go home" and "We demand a peace treaty."

It was the first time in months that Communist street-fighting tactics have been employed in divided Berlin.

West Berlin police estimated 15,000 youths infiltrated the shopping area of the French sector. At a prearranged signal, they broke into their "peace" demonstration just as the normal work day was ending.

About 10,000 others — deployed along the Soviet frontier—shouted above the din of their own loudspeakers, threw bomb rubble bricks and, in one case, kidnapped a West Berlin policeman and dragged him into East Berlin.

Several thousand West Berlin police, including highly trained alert units, kept the Communists at bay with fire hoses. Fourteen ring leaders caught inside the West sector were taken to prison.

Four policemen were among the wounded.

Observer Corps To Be Placed On 24-Hour Watch

Washington, AP—The Air Force plans to strengthen its radar network by putting a major portion of the volunteer Ground Observer Corps on 24-hour operation, effective May 17.

The ground observers will check the sky by eye for unidentified planes, just as radar scans the heavens electronically.

In putting the ground observers on a 24-hour watch, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, said in a statement:

"We are strengthening many of the weaknesses in the radar network, since visual observers are effective in many cases where radar is of little or no aid."

There are now about 150,000 volunteers in 36 states in the Ground Observer Corps. The Air Force figures it needs at least 500,000 watchers.

169 Convicts March From Fortress Cell

Jackson, Mich. (AP) — Convict rebels at Southern Michigan Prison, their five-day mutiny won, surrendered their fortress cellblock yesterday. They released eight groggy but unharmed hostage guards.

The 169 mutineers discarded a pile of weapons—knives, cleavers, ball bats and clubs — outside their cellblock, a monument to the worst riot ever to sweep a Michigan prison.

A roaring cheer broke the tense silence of the vast prison as the last of the rebels walked out of isolation cellblock 15 with the guards.

One convict died during the flaming rampage of 6,500 dangerous men, many of them merciless killers who would have paid with their lives for their crimes in other states. Michigan has no capital punishment.

Cellblock 15, punishment center for convicts who break prison rules, was the first seized and the last surrendered. General rioting in the world's largest walled prison ended earlier in the week.

A long-term convict in block 15 tricked a rookie prison guard and captured him to touch off the riot last Sunday night.

Wives of the long imprisoned guards—some with babies clutched in their arms—screamed and sobbed hysterically in a mad dash into the arms of the freed, but badly shaken hostages.

As late as Wednesday night, it was still touch and go whether any of the guards would ever get out alive.

Warden Julian N. Frisbie, visibly torn with emotion and strain, said the howling, hot-tempered block 15 convicts "wrecked the place." They had given themselves until this morning to surrender. But apparently they couldn't bear the prospect of another night.

One of them even bolted the block with his hands in the air yesterday morning, surrendering hours in advance of the others.

Convicts in other cell blocks already had wrecked much of the vast prison, burning and pillaging to the tune of $2,000,000 in damages.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams came from Lansing to confer with prison officials at a state police post about a half mile from the main gate.

"I came down," the Governor said, "to pay my respects to and congratulate the men who did the work of bringing the prison back to good order without the bloodshed which appeared to be impending."

Williams repeated congratulations to all hands "for keeping everybody alive."

Continuing, the Governor said of his acceptance of the convicts' surrender terms:

"The agreement was necessary to bring this thing under control but it must be followed strictly to the letter. On the other hand, there is no reason for any coddling of the inmates."

"It is a matter of going ahead and establishing order and being firm."

Explaining his pledge of no reprisals to the mutinous convicts in cell block 15, Gov. Williams said they already were on punishment status to which they would be returned and that therefore no further action need be taken.

Earlier yesterday at Lansing, the Governor disclosed that the convicts failed to get all they demanded. He said they had insisted on no reprisals of any kind against the rioters.

"Of course, such a commitment was out of the question," the Governor said.

The man who touched off the riot Sunday night was Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt, dangerous bandit with a twisted mind. He once tried to flee another prison at knifepoint with Gov. Williams as a shield.

Williams then was on a visit to Marquette Prison in Northern Michigan. Hyatt's bid for freedom failed.

The 29-year-old Hyatt tricked a rookie guard into opening his cell Sunday night, then slammed the bars shut on the guard. Hyatt then joined forces with Earl E. Ward, a handsome but equally vicious criminal.

Five Homeless After Blaze Destroys Home

Bushkill—A six-room frame home here was destroyed by fire early Monday morning and its five occupants made homeless.

An overheated chimney was blamed for the blaze which started at 5:30 a.m. Bushkill Fire Co. was summoned but the structure, located about six miles from the community, burned to the ground before preventative measures could be taken.

Located to the west of Wiona Falls Road, the home was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Van Why Jr. and three children. G. Wells Van Campen, former fire chief, said Van Why was working in the field adjoining the home when he noticed the smoke and quickly took his family from the home. All the furnishings, excepting a washing machine, were being washed in the yard. The house was partially covered by insurance.

Open House Observed At Barrett School

Barrett—Open house was observed Wednesday night when the Parent Teacher Association of the local township school convened in the school auditorium.

Parents and friends of students toured the rooms. A schedule for grades seven to twelve was compiled in advance for parents to follow the same schedule the students maintain. Class periods were shortened and teachers briefly outlined the curriculum and objectives of each course covered.

The occasion also marked installation of officers. Seated were Emmett Boone Jr., president; Mrs. Erwin Skinner, vice-president; Mrs. June Young, secretary and Mrs. Grace DePue, treasurer.

It was announced that the 120-voice choir of East Stroudsburg would present the assembly program at the school Thursday.

The music promoters reported they will sponsor a bake sale Saturday at Lewis' Food Market and G and S. The sale will start at 9 a.m. Friday night, May 9, the music department of the school will present its spring concert in the auditorium at 8.

Grades two and three were awarded $2.50 for having the largest number of parents present. Home economics department, under the direction of Mrs. June Young, served refreshments.

Fire Causes Considerable Damage To Decker Dwelling; Four Departments Called

Four fire companies were summoned to Smithfield Township yesterday morning to halt a fire started by an overheated chimney that partially consumed the second floor and attic.

Started about 10 a. m., the flames crept through the home owned by Arthur Decker on Franklin Hill while the owner was delivering produce.

LeRoy Hendricks, a passerby, sounded the alarm and neighbors rushed to aid Mrs. Decker take furnishings from the home.

Decker said the home was covered by insurance, and estimates from area residents, including Russell LaBar, chief of police of the township, said the home probably was 100 years old. Decker said he resided there for the past 38 years.

While the first floor was hardly touched by the flames, water damage was considerable. Firemen used booster tanks and ran hose to a creek about 100 yards south of the structure, to augment the water supply. Presence of the creek was credited by firemen with saving the building from being burned to the ground.

Marshall's Creek Fire Co. was the last to leave the scene, arriving at their headquarters at 12:30 p. m. Other companies who aided in extinguishing the fire were Stroud Township, East Stroudsburg and Shawnee.

Decker said the home was originally built of brick, but in recent years wooden siding had been attached. He also stated the fire damage would not make him and his wife homeless, since the front portion of the second floor was untouched by flames.

Most Novelty Plates Legal

Confusion over the use of so-called "novelty plates" on the front of motor vehicles led to a statement yesterday by R. LeRoy Dengler, president of Monroe County Automobile Club, that generally, unless such plates are obscene, vulgar or reflectorized, they are legal.

Dengler said use of an unexpired license plate, or the painting of the vehicle's current license number on the front of the vehicle, is illegal.

Use of plates such as the plaque proclaiming 1952 as the 50th anniversary of the American Automobile Association on the front of the vehicle is perfectly legal, the official said.

"Heavy water" molecules are made of two deuterium atoms combined with one oxygen atom.

Service Clubs Draft Plans For Tamiment Outing June 10

A meeting of the general committee of the Pocono Mountains service club outing was held last night in the Penn-Stroud with Chairman Gilbert Smrz presiding, and tentative plans for the proposed gathering were advanced.

The outing will be held at Camp Tamiment June 10, from 1 p. m. to 1 a. m., and will feature golf, boating, cards, a banquet, formal exercises including an address on "Three Who Made a Revolution" by author Bernard Wolfe and a grand ball.

Full use of the accommodations of Tamiment will be accorded through the courtesy of Manager Ben Josephson and many special entertainment features are proposed.

Final Phase Bids At Tobyhanna Depot To Be Opened May 23

Work Covers $20 Million Expenditure

Bids will be opened by the Corps of Engineers, Philadelphia district office, on May 23 at 2 p. m., on the final phase of the $33,000,000 Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

These contracts will involve an estimated expenditure of $20,000,000 and cover major building construction on the giant depot project.

Included will be four huge warehouses 200 by 1,200 feet and the main administration building for the project. The Army will supply kitchen equipment for restaurant and cafeteria in the main building.

Meanwhile, the Corps of Engineers expect to advertise for bids on a 200-unit Wherry housing project for custodial personnel who will be on the depot on a 24-hour call basis.

Rinker & Kiefer, Stroudsburg, are the architect-engineers on the Wherry housing project for some 200 family units featuring one, two, three and four-bedroom living quarters.

The contractor in this instance will provide his own finance with an FHA guarantee. The site for the housing development, on the old parade grounds of the Tobyhanna Reservation, will be leased to the contractor at a nominal fee by the government.

Friday Night Store Hours Adopted In East Borough; Starting Date Not Yet Set

East Stroudsburg will be a Friday night shopping town in the very near future, according to action taken at a dinner meeting of the East Stroudsburg Merchants Association held at Chariton's Lodge.

H. L. Cleveland, president of the association, presided at the business session when these merchants indicated that they would open on Friday night and close on Saturday night: East Stroudsburg Hardware, R. K. Lesoiner Co., Famous Store, Laundrette, Koster's, Ray Arnold, C. H. Travis & Sons, Ray Mansfield, F. J. Kistler & Son, Star Furniture, Globe Furniture, Zacher's, Numan's Sport Shop, Bon Ton, Lullaby Lane, Miller's Food Service. Rex Auto is already open Friday night as well as Saturday night.

A committee will contact other East Stroudsburg merchants not present at this meeting in an effort to get their cooperation on the Friday-night-opening and Saturday-night-closing plan, and a date for the inauguration of the new store hours will be announced.

Programs for further promoting East Stroudsburg as a shopping district were discussed, and the association went on record as endorsing a program of concerted effort, providing a sufficient number of individual firms will participate. A survey of the East Stroudsburg merchants is to be made, and a special meeting of the merchants association will be called to receive the report and outline definite action.

Democratic Vote Given

Democratic candidates on the primary ballot (not listed previously in The Daily Record) received the following total votes, a count of Monroe's unofficial election returns showed yesterday:

Harry M. Montgomery, for Supreme Court, 1,856 (he also ran on the Republican ticket, lost to J. C. Arnold 1,044 to 749); George M. Leader, for State treasurer, 1,794; Van D. Yetter Jr., for representative to the General Assembly, 2,021; Forrest E. Smith, for State Committeeman, 2,005; and John A. Brislin, for county chairman, 1,832.

Blueprint for Balance

A blueprint for a balanced federal budget has been drafted by the Committee for Economic Development (CED).

This organization is made up of reputable businessmen who have approached the complex problem of federal financing with refreshing objectivity, not just as another set of chronic "agin-ers."

They've studied how much money the federal government expects to collect in the next fiscal year, how much more than that the Truman administration wants to spend, and what can be done to make the two come out even.

Their findings and recommendations are contained in a temperately worded 34-page report made public today.

Baffled members of Congress, who claim they would like to remove the monumental budget's $10.4-billion cash deficit but don't know how to do it, ought to take a long look at the CED's report. It's rich in material for guidance.

The report's major conclusion is that the budget could be balanced without new taxes and without impairing the nation's military security programs.

The CED calculates that expenditures for defense and foreign assistance will lag at least $3.5 billions behind President Truman's estimate of actual expenditures for these purposes. In this the committee appears to be on safe ground, since there is some basis for assuming the lag will double that amount.

The committee proposes to make up $4 billions more of the shortage by reducing waste and inefficiency in the military security programs. The rest would be taken from other programs, including proposed new ones which Congress has not yet authorized.

In its approach to defense and foreign-assistance spending, the committee doesn't suggest the meat-ax treatment.

It recognizes that "the world situation requires a rapid build-up of our own military forces and assistance to friendly nations in building up their economic and military strength." It even assumes in its calculations that the security programs must be carried out on the scale recommended by the President.

But the CED contends the Truman administration could spend $4 billions less on the security programs—and still get the same results.

That calls for less waste and extravagance. Only sound alternative to budget-cutting, the CED says, is new taxes. It rejects the in-the-red operation the Truman budget calls for. That would be an easy way out. But, as the CED warns, it would increase the risk of another round of inflation, one thing we've all had enough of.

The CED says it prefers a retail sales tax to any other new tax, or to increases in present ones. It might just as well have stated preference for a head tax on politicians. Short of a major emergency, Congress won't raise tax bills in this campaign year.

The choice, then, is between deficit financing and budget-cutting.

In Congress, the House is in a mood to cut. The Senate has talked a good game, but so far hasn't shown its hand. It's hampered by the fact that so many senators are trying to be President, or President-makers.

President Truman wants it all his way. He already has threatened to call Congress in special session if it doesn't rubber-stamp his defense spending requests.

But those billions come from all of us.

The taxpayers have endured much and surely have a right to consideration—such as Congress and the Truman administration working together on the CED plan, or any other constructive proposal.

The Foreign Policy

The center of the debate in the Presidential campaign is the foreign policy. The ambition of the internationalists is so to arrange the affairs of both parties that no discussion of foreign policy occurs. The same forces which created the fiction of a bipartisan foreign policy in 1944 and 1948 are now active in both parties to nominate candidates who will be silent on this one subject.

This group consists of two principal factors, namely, Wall Street banking houses with vast international connections and their business affiliates; and a number of newspaper and magazine publishers who were associated with the Wendell Willkie campaign in 1940.

It would seem that the general objective of this political operation is to have a candidate who will support the policy that has been pursued by this country since 1933, when Roosevelt shifted from apparent neutrality to active partnership. The tone of the current attitude was best expressed by Averell Harriman on an "America's Town Meeting" discussion when he said:

"Just a minute. We've made lots of mistakes and I'm sure you've made lots of mistakes. But what we're talking about is what we learned from the mistakes, and where we're going for the future..."

"Let's talk about the future, not about the past..."

In a word, these people want no examination of their costly errors. Their attitude is that no matter what a mistake costs in wealth and human life, no one is responsible for it; the citizen who pays in sons and taxes must be silent. Mr. Harriman has been present at most of the conferences under both Roosevelt and Truman which brought upon us our misfortunes, but he does not feel responsible. He got experience.

What we really need to do is to resolve that every man associated with the errors which began at Teheran should be eliminated from public life. The curious thing about it is that the Europeans hardly take seriously the consequences of our errors. The following paragraph from the British "The Contemporary Review" is typical of the European reaction to our problems:

"It is understandable that the United States should feel in a more militant and crusading mood towards Communism than the rest of the Anglo-Saxon world and Europe. The latter is more disposed to fight Communism by other methods than open war if this is at all possible. No doubt this is still the view of the majority in the United States. But the United States is still a country where New England preachers can get up moral crusades, where the spirit of the early Mayflower settlers and of the Scottish Covenanters can exercise a powerful influence on public opinion. The history of the United States is full of this sort of phenomenon. Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous anti-slavery novel, the Abolitionists, and the campaign against Brigham Young and the Mormons. There is an undercurrent of a Messianic idea here to carry the fiery cross over the world against Communism."

We have suffered at least 107,000 casualties and $7,900,000,000 for foreign aid, no matter what our internal situation; his mind seems to run to an international WPA, which is not natural since he entered politics under the tutelage of Harry Hopkins.

Mr. Price can recognize opposition to the foreign policy of the Administration as "sordid"—as "... the desire to stop the leftist trend of American politics under the Democrats. To slow down social insurance schemes, the beginnings of a welfare state and state interference in the national economy, these Republicans are quite ready to use all methods including the reversal of the United States' foreign policy. They see that the defense of Europe against Russia and the methods of fighting Communism by economic aid to Europe and the backward parts of Asia and Africa are likely to mean higher taxes for years to come. Of course, if an internationalist is nominated by the Republicans, this process will be reversed. The Republicans will then be supporters of the Truman-Marshall-Acheson program. They might as well nominate Averell Harriman, and gulp down the entire bitter pill.

One of the biggest advertising experts of our time began his career chasing one-inch insertions for his home-town weekly. The barber proved obstinate. "Been cuttin' hair right here for sixty years," he maintained, "and never advertised yet." The young solicitor nodded and asked, "How long would you figure the church on this village green has been standing?" "Bout three hundred years, I expect," said the barber. "Exactly," agreed the solicitor, "and they still ring the bell."

Desmond Flower, London publisher, suggested to his American conferees a means of combating the television menace. They need only join forces and take over an hour each night on every network. ## The President and the Press

Despite what has been said about it, Harry Truman is too smart to "take over the press, even in his most taking moods. The Democrats think they can run almost anything but they know the newspaper business is one that has far too many headaches. If Harry seized even the small-town newspaper tomorrow he would be glad to drop it, apologize, admit his error and take an oath never to do it again inside of a week. We can imagine the routine:

First Day—He arrives to find word that two libel case lawyers, a man with a knife and four recent journalism school students seeking immediate jobs as star reporters are in the corridor. He finds the cost of white paper has gone up again. The picture of an old friend gets in upside down. A proofreader fails to catch the line "Society Leader at Lawn Fete" over a race horse. He gets word of another jump in ink costs. A press breaks down.

Second Day—The weather forecast gets in under the obituary. The obituary column comes out with the prophesy "Tomorrow fair and warmer." His secretary tells him four lawyers, claiming libel and a man with a gun are in the corridor demanding to see him at once. Part of the stock market table gets in upside down. Forty readers call him by phone to get an announcement about a picnic, clam-bake or wedding on Page One.

Third Day—An all-out fight for a great cause in the public interest brings him a flood of letters denouncing him as a starchy-eyed visionary and Moscow tool. He finds he has lost 15 pounds and developed a new ulcer. He gets

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington, April 24 — Staggered Illinois Democrats are far from comforted by the political pin-wheeling of Senator Paul Douglas.

After the departure of Gov. Adlai Stevenson from the national political arena, an act classified as cruel and inhuman treatment of desperate politicians, Douglas, without being asked, blurted out his fondness for candidate Estes Kefauver, the cousin senator from Tennessee.

Democratic boss Jacob Arvey and his Illinois political machine playmates merely grinned. Douglas had almost squared the circle. He had first advocated a joint nomination of Gov. Dwight Eisenhower, but when the proposal was greeted with universal silence, he switched to Gov. Stevenson.

Neither Eisenhower, Stevenson nor Kefauver has shown any great enthusiasm for Douglas' praise, although Kefauver did say thanks. It appears they all feel Douglas lacks consistency so there is no use in embracing him until he stops spinning.

Douglas has about as much chance of being the nominee as President Truman has of being asked to submit to a party draft here in July.

The same machine politicians who informed the President that he would not be needed for the 1952 campaign are known to regard Kefauver as a political creep just short of being a twin of former Vice President Henry Wallace, the Yogi expert and current chicken farmer.

Douglas is held in the same esteem. Both Douglas and Kefauver like to break bread with something known as Americans for Democratic Action. This is a sort of rich man's club of refugees from Russia who, not wealthy worrying about the disreputable masses. It is about on a par with a collection of crackpots ranging from Russian style revolutionists to bobby soxers from eastern girls' schools. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt; Leon Henderson, former boss of the office of Price Administration, and fair deal columnist Marquis Childs are considered heavy thinkers in the ADA League. That should be all you have to know.

Douglas, of course, is an ADA darling. So is Kefauver. And because of its desire to spread the collectivist doctrine, the ADA practically simmers at the thought of getting one of their boys in the White House, or at least in the vice president's seat. If they could accomplish this, the big city machine bosses would get even faster than heads rolled in the wake of the French Revolution.

A week in the mid-west showed me that there is less talk among Democrats there about an individual candidate than there is about who is going to control the party during the next four years. Even if their party is licked, the Democrats with political savvy know that whoever becomes the party leader—and in all probability it will be the man who gets the party nomination here in July—will call the shots and build the machine for the comeback.

For this reason a series of back room conferences here, in New York, California and in Washington are under way. Frank McKinney, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and the man who took the bad news to President Truman, is swing man for the big city machine bosses. He passes along word of party decisions and pitches national committee propaganda to fit the needs.

When the big bosses decide on the Democratic man of the hour, McKinney will be the first to know. And the decision won't be based solely on the man who might be able to beat Senator Robert A. Taft, Eisenhower or whoever gets the GOP nomination. It will be a selection best suited to keep party control in the hands of the bosses, even if forecasts of a shellacking next November are correct.

President Truman, of course, was the best possible candidate for the political bosses, except for the fact that distaste of him personally had reached such gigantic proportions in the country. But he is dutiful, loyal and tractable to the machines. The search is for someone exactly like Mr. Truman but with a record of higher intellectual capabilities.

For this reason Douglas and Kefauver give the Democratic big shots nervous stomachs. They are both guilty of displaying desires to allow Wallace type Democrats to run their political lives, or even worse, of failing to understand the problems of the bosses.

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

New York — This is, as any small school child knows, the home of sophistication. Subtlety is the password. If your wit is flashing, your talent complex and your message a bit obscure, we greet you with open arms and dub you a genius. Picasso rules New York and Dalí is his crown prince. If there is one thing we scorn, shudderingly, it is the obvious.

Bearing all this in mind, I sneaked up on a local collar called the Copacabana the other evening to watch cosmopolitan New York deal harshly with a singer (what is it Dean Martin says—this is a singer?) called Johnny Ray. There is, I admit, a touch of sadism in me, and I arrived at the Copa prepared to have this vicious streak fondled and catered to. I had heard Mr. Ray's photograph records, unbelievably, and I had seen pictures of him in the magazines, and there was no doubt whatever: this was absolutely the biggest cornball ever to come down the drain. New Yorkers would tear him into small pieces.

Mr. Ray has no singing voice to speak of, but it is no voice in the respect that Al Jolson had no voice. Pure tone was not Al's stock in trade. Enthusiasm was. So with Mr. Ray. He has, like a young baritone named Eckstein, an annoying semi-professional trick of closing the back of his throat occasionally, the result being that he seems to be doing a cross between a yodel and a sob-gulp. This makes his chanting a kind of warbling bray.

Johnny is tall and slim and affects a shock of hair over one eye, which I guess is supposed to be cute, and when he gets his teeth into one of his incredibly true songs and begins wailing something about letting your hair down and crying, he stands up from his piano and flails his arms around in strange, agonized gestures.

Someone has said it looks as if he is milking a cow, and that about describes it. Also, he allegedly cries himself during all this; actually if you look closely, it seems to be just perspiration rolling over his pancake make-up.

Well—enough of those ulcerous thoughts; at any rate, here we have this Zip-the-What-Is-it of show business, offering the most outlandish corn, . . . and doing it all with a kind of malevolent grin, knowing it is corn and getting a boot out of watching audiences eat it up.

Back in Mr. Ray's native Oregon, I thought smugly, he might have gotten away with it, but not here in cosmopolitan New York. Mr. Ray was meant to bang on a piano and bleat into a faulty microphone in some rundown roadhouse 15 miles out of South Bend, while simple farmers ate Italian hotpots and cried into their beer.

I think I almost don't have to tell you what happened. It was right out of O. Henry.

They absolutely loved him. He walked out onto the same postage-stamp floor where Joe E. Lewis spits his arch and hop jokes in season, where wise-cracking gents like Henny Youngman and Jan Murray tell their stories of horseplayers, Broadwayites and other sharp shots, and where even Jimmy Durante edges his boisterous material with sophistication.

Mr. Ray walked out onto that same floor and began to moan, groan and intone, hip-deep in corn husks—and they wouldn't let him off. They whistled and cheered and beat their palms.

I began to consider—and do you know, the sophisticated performers in New York have almost vanished? John Hoyerlat

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

"Time for Decision — That First Gray Hair."

A picture in my newspaper attracted my attention to the above heading and to the article that went with it.

The picture showed a smiling lady—I should say she was in the late thirties or early forties—dyeing her hair with a new kind of plastic application.

"The time to do something about gray hair is when the first one makes its appearance." That is how the article started.

The whole rest of it was devoted to the art of thinking you are fooling the public. "It is important to color your hair before your gray hair secret is out—" it said—"because while you keep dyeing your hair, you'll feel you still look young."

Maybe so. Maybe so. But personally I think you are not fooling anybody but yourself.

The trouble is that gray hair is not the ONLY sign of getting old.

Aging shows itself in many other ways besides in gray hair. In addition to the many physical indications of getting old, there is one dead sure sign—your mental outlook, or perhaps I should rather say your mental behavior.

I have a regular game on with my wife.

Whenever we go any place I tell her that I can tell a woman with dyed hair.

I always leave the final decision to her. Because I think it is absolutely impossible to fool a woman about another woman's age—or dress.

To me a hat or a dress may have gone to Hollywood to become a movie villain, John Buckmaster has had what appears to be a nervous breakdown. Lord knows where Irwin Corey is, and so on.

I note that Mr. Noel Coward recently was a smashing success in his first night club engagement, in London's Chez Paree—and I feature that dear Noel, if he turned up now in Manhattan, would lay a large white egg. We seem to have come, here, upon the day of the cornball, who wears funny hats, quotes from Edgar A. Guest and asks you who was that lady I saw you with last night.

look beautiful and right up to the minute.

But my wife will simply shrug her shoulder and say "That hat is 1951." Or "That dress is 1950." About the dyed hair—nine times out of ten I am right.

What is the matter, anyway, with getting old?

Have you ever heard of anybody who did NOT get old? Do you know ANYONE who has eternal youth?

I don't know why so many people—and particularly women—don't seem to realize that YOUTH is strictly the prerogative of YOUTH.

A normal person who ages gracefully and with dignity, is simply following the dictates of NATURE and can stay beautiful and lovely. Just as an aging tree can remain beautiful and lovely to see.

But an aging person who tries to stay young becomes a hectic person, a nervous person, an unhappy person—a fool.

There is a beautiful poem by George Crabbe, which goes like this:

"When all the fiercer passions cease
(The glory and disgrace of youth);
"When the deluded soul, in peace,
Can listen to the voice of truth;

"When we are taught in whom to trust,
And how to spare, to spend, to give,
(Our prudence kind, our pity just.)
"Tis then we rightly learn to live."

I think the best way to get old gracefully is not to look so much into the mirror on the wall, but more into the mirror of our soul.

$410 Sought To Complete Disaster Fund

Monroe County has again responded to the humanitarian appeal of the American Red Cross, raising not only the regular quota for the 1952 Red Cross fund campaign, set at $15,815, but also adding an additional $700 requested mid-way in the campaign to relieve the suffering caused by the tornado.

Now the disasters in the flood-stricken areas of the country are putting new strains on the Red Cross disaster program and national headquarters has requested the local chapter to add still another $700, at least, to its quota. Similar requests went out to all chapters.

In Monroe County, the local chapter has received all but $410.74 of the total amount requested by national from this county—amounting to $15,215.

That residents of the county should answer so wholeheartedly to the appeal is a tribute to the captains and workers who canvassed the territory, and to the active program of the local Red Cross, leaders said.

In his flood appeal to the chapters, President E. Roland Harrison of the National Red Cross stressed that the Red Cross has spent or committed for disaster more than 22 million dollars in this fiscal year, not including the present fund.

To aid in the work of mercy in taking care of humans, individual needs in the flood area, the local chapter will continue to receive contributions at the headquarters on Court House Square and forward them immediately to the national organization.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1952
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—If you've been rushing hard all week, slow down some to check over what you've accomplished. Can you make improvements? Did you miss opportunities? Prepare for a good weekend.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—As we all should today, try to finish tasks to have a free hand for next week. Don't worry or stew about things you've accomplished more on days like this.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Self-restraint urged. You will need clear head and steady purpose if you would have this day on credit side. Have order in routine, conferences, clearing up odds and ends.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Tendency to feel down or discouraged easily. Don't feel that or any other such bankruptcy. Give yourself a pep talk just for sure, and be more cheerful than usual.

July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo)—Moderate indications, best for activities with which you are familiar. Routine need not be troublesome. Financial interests have fresh boost.

Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo)—Mercury and other planets here stress self-restraint. Do not worry; have reasonable tempo and be temperate in all things. Try to get in some restful diversion.

Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra)—Personal affairs, new tasks may irritate unless you are on guard, show closer interest and desire to help keep things going smoother. You can get ahead.

Oct. 24 to Nov. 23 (Scorpio)—Maybe some obstacles in immediate progress, cause you to slow up. Take them philosophically. Sometimes such days reveal opportunities for our best qualities.

Nov. 24 to Dec. 23 (Sagittarius)—Some sort of restrictions today as for Scorpio. But good management of your affairs, sensible cooperation with family and associates will bring happy results.

Dec. 24 to Jan. 23 (Capricorn)—May be better now than many because of your patience and steady persistence, also your knack for understanding and tolerating human frailties.

Jan. 24 to Feb. 23 (Aquarius)—Your Uranus position advises against unwarranted changes in any well planned or successfully running business or other undertaking. Follow through efficient program.

Feb. 24 to Mar. 23 (Pisces)—If careful not to neglect any confidential or important matter and are equally cautious handling chemicals, drugs, beverages and like, you should have no trouble today.

YOU BORN TODAY are steady, dependable, kind and highly efficient, talented especially for mechanics, farming, cardmaking, nursing, skill for devising, managing groups, building, extension planning. Taurus often have great talent for oratory, singing, make able judges, physicians, public speakers, teachers, scientists. Birthdate (Angeline) Marsom, Ital. physicist, inventor of wireless telegraphy.

Miss Taylor To Address Resort Bureau

Pocono Manor — The Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau and the Northeastern Pennsylvania Restaurant Association will be hosts for the third annual hotel show to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, April 29-30 here.

Approximately 1000 members of the combined organizations and more than 100 food purveyors will participate in the show for which Al Stets, of Pocono Manor, is chairman. Edward C. Jenkins is president of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, a post he has held for 13 years. George Colovas is president of the Northeastern Pennsylvania Restaurant Association.

Miss Ada Taylor, director of sales of the Claridge Hotel, Atlantic City, will be guest speaker at the April 30 luncheon meeting of the Resort Bureau. Miss Taylor organized the sales department at the Claridge and prior to that the sales organization of the Chelsea Hotel, Atlantic City.

Richard E. S. Deichler, vice-president for sales of American Airlines will be the principal speaker for the annual dinner meeting of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau Wednesday night when the election of officers for that association will also be held.

Oscar Smith, special consultant in restaurant fields, will be the principal speaker for the Northeastern Pennsylvania Restaurant Association dinner Tuesday night.

More than 100 colorfully decorated booths will exhibit the wares of the various food purveyors during the show which opens 1:00 p. m. Tuesday and runs until 10:30 p. m. the same night, and Wednesday from 9:30 a. m. until 6:00 p. m.

Clinics and discussions will be held both days of the show, which has become the fore-runner of the annual spring and summer activities in the Poconos.

College Host Tomorrow At Institute

The fifth annual geography institute at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will be held tomorrow, beginning with registration at 9 a.m. in the school gymnasium.

Four major workshop discussion groups have been set up for the conference between the hours of

Dr. Vera Dean

10 a.m. and noon. All will take place in Oakes Hall on campus.

Principal speaker during the one-day institute will be Dr. Vera Michele Dean, research director of the Foreign Policy Association, New York.

Dr. Dean will discuss the USSR and the USA establishing their international relations on a "balance sheet of power".

Born in Russia, Mrs. Dean came to this country in 1919. She received her B.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Radcliffe and an M.A. degree in international law from Yale University. She became an American citizen in 1928.

Mrs. Dean assisted in preparatory work for the formation of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in 1942 and in 1947 was awarded the Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French government for her "contribution to world understanding".

In addition to editing publications for the Foreign Policy Association in New York City, Mrs. Dean has written a number of authoritative books, including "Yugoslavia: A New Form of Communism".

Dr. Dean's address is slated for 2 p.m. tomorrow in the college auditorium. She will be introduced by Veva Kathryn Dean, head of the college geography department.

Workshop discussions on the role of geography in the proposed Incoed project for the construction of dams along the Delaware River; the organization of geographic learnings by units in schools; the construction of map models and the general Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Waterway area will be led by prominent high school instructors from Eastern and North-eastern Pennsylvania public schools.

The Greek island of Lesbos lies less than 10 miles off the Turkish coast.

School Groups To Present Concert At Newfoundland

Newfoundland—The music department of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school will present its fourth annual Spring concert in the high school auditorium here tonight at 8.

The 56-piece high school band, a high school girls' chorus of 33 voices and the recently-organized junior band, as well as a number of smaller groups and soloists, will parade their talents before an expected capacity crowd of 600 persons.

The entire production is under the direction of Harold Wild, music supervisor at the school, who will be making one of his last appearances before a local audience. Wild last Monday submitted his resignation to the local board of education, having accepted a position as director of instrumental music at the Millersville, Pa., High School.

Highlights of the program will be the first public appearance of the school's junior band, made up of 41 pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The personnel of this unit has been trained, individually and as a group, in the relatively short period of six months.

Among the smaller groups and soloists to participate in Friday's program are a trumpet trio, Ross Smith, Paul Gilpin and Helen Olsommer; Evelyn Brodowsky, accordionist; William Hahn, clarinet soloist, and Georgia Bewley, soprano soloist. Charlotte Rohacker and Nancy Rohacker are the accompanists for the vocal numbers.

Benefit Program Given At School

Vaudeville and variety were the keynotes last night at Clearview school auditorium as the PTA members of that school presented their special "pops" concert and variety program for the benefit of the school's new gymnasium-auditorium.

Featured performers on the program last night were the members of the Delaware Water Gap orchestra who gave solid support to individual acts interspersed throughout the bill.

Both pupils and teachers cooperated in the planning of the program which also featured performers from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and local professionals.

Mrs. Natalie Kohn served as general chairman for all committees.

Foster Parents Honored By CAS Board For Service To Children Of The County

The foster parents who care for the wards of the Children's Aid Society were last night honored by the board of directors at a party at the Stroud Community House. Awards were presented to the foster parents who have served ten years or longer by Mrs. F. L. Patterson Jr., board president, who paid tribute to the wonderful work they had done through the years in making the CAS service possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gower, 17 years of service; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, 16 years; Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Kunkle, 13 years; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Berger, 12 years; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin DeWitt and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thomas, 10 years.

On the basis of outstanding service in the five years that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hummel have provided a foster home, they were also presented with an award. They have worked with four children continuously during those five years. They not only provided transportation for the children in their own home, but for all the children on their route before a bus service was established. Because they felt the children needed social contacts in the rural area, they were instrumental in organizing a 4-H club in their area, in which they are still active.

Each foster mother was presented with a bottle of perfume and a small Spring corsage; each foster father received a white carnation. Mrs. Patterson was assisted in making the awards by Mrs. Jean L. Albert, executive secretary; and in presenting the flowers by Miss Doris Braeman, office secretary, and Mrs. A. G. Gearhart, caseworker.

Other foster parents present at the party were Mrs. Francis Beers, Mrs. Horace Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Getz, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill, Mrs. Fred Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cramer, Mrs. Seward Hawk, and Miss Ruth Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neupert, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hummel, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawler, Mr. and Mrs. George Halterman and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keiper.

The county commissioners were represented by Adolph Rake; the community chest by Mrs. Ethel West, executive secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dunning; and there was an excellent attendance of board members. There were approximately 70 persons present.

The party opened with chaises, directed by Mrs. Donald Gilpin and Mrs. Fred Quig, which proved very successful. Readings by Mrs. Sumner Boslar were presented by Mrs. T. F. Rhodes. Refreshments were served with organizing president, Mrs. T. F. Rhodes, and Mrs. Francis Beers, foster mother, pouring. During the tea time piano numbers were presented by Shirley Yeagle and Martha McAndrew of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Mrs. B. I. Fansler chose the gift and Mrs. Adolph Rake was refreshments chairman.

Auxiliary Meets At E. S. Church

The Women's Auxiliary of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church devoted their meeting Wednesday night to a study of social action and missions. Mrs. Horace Walters presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Paul Dellaria, president.

Mrs. Thomas J. Breitwieser, chairman of social action and education and education, was in charge of the program which featured a report by Mrs. Elwood Grant on the Mexican-Texas migrants. Mrs. Walters reported on work in Alaska.

Refreshments were served by the Lydia Circle.

Spring Flowers Brighten Trays For Patients

Flowering quintz and narcissus formed the basis for the colorful spring bouquets which appeared yesterday on the trays of the patients at the General Hospital, and in the nurses dining rooms, thanks to the hospital committee of the Monroe County Garden Club of which Mrs. A. Starr Phelps is chairman.

Using the narcissus from the garden of Mrs. W. R. Erickson, and flowering quintz blossoms presented by Mrs. Shiffer, the committee arranged the miniature bouquets for the patients. Working with Mrs. Phelps were Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Shiffer, Mrs. M. Howard Williams, Mrs. Edgar Van Why, Mrs. Steward Shiffer and Miss Fannie Swarts-welder.

Miss Leine To Be Wed On Saturday

Miss Patricia Leine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Owens, Maple Ave., East Stroudsburg, will become the bride of Michael Karpelien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Karpelien, of Bethlehem, on Saturday afternoon, April 26, at 4, at the E. Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton will perform the ceremony, and Miss Leine has selected as her attendants, Miss Shirley Owens as maid-of-honor, and Miss Louise Kokolas, of Matamoras, and Miss Mary Sue Stempier, of Mauch Chunk, both former classmates at St. Lukes Hospital School of Nursing, as her bridesmaids.

Her friends are invited to attend the ceremony.

Miss Gregory Is Bride Of M. F. Weiss Jr.

Postmaster and Mrs. Norman B. Gregory, of East Stroudsburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Norma, to Melvin F. Weiss Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Weiss, of Brodheadville.

Miss Gregory was graduated from Ursinus College in 1947, and until her marriage was employed at the Waring Enterprise, Inc., East Stroudsburg.

Mr. Weiss served in World War Two for six years with two and a half years in North Africa and Italy. After returning from service, he entered Pennsylvania State College and was graduated in 1948 as an engineer. He is now in business with his father in Brodheadville, where they will reside.

Barrett Club Has Program On Cancer

Barrett—The Barrett Woman's Club share in the Barrett Cancer Drive was set forth at the meeting of the club in the East Room of the Inn at Buck Hill on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Harry Shinn, chairman of the drive, reported on committee activities and announced a benefit card party to be held at the Glennere on Monday, May 19, at 8 p. m.

The club voted to give $25 to the Cancer drive. The program too followed the theme of "Most Cancer Can Be Cured If Treated Early." Mrs. Horace Butler of the Monroe County Cancer committee gave a talk on local activities about the new Cancer room and the need of volunteers for making dressings. A film was presented on "What Most People Don't Know About Cancer."

Her talk was followed by a talk by Mrs. C. Edward DePuy, executive director of the Monroe County Public Health Nursing Organization. Mrs. DePuy told of the work of the public health nurses and their cooperation with the cancer society's cases.

Tea was served with Mrs. Herbert A. Lorenz pouring.

Serve canned hamburgers on toasted rolls, then pour over a rarebit sauce. Add a salad and you have a good hurry up meal.

Music Parents Monday—The Music Parents of Stroudsburg High School will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the band room at the high school.

Mrs. Harold Edwards Again President Of G. S. Council; Girl Scouts Number 418

The number of Girl Scouts in Monroe County has reached 418. It was announced last night at the annual Spring meeting of the Girl Scout Council held at Log Cabin with Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, presiding.

Mrs. Edwards was re-elected as president, and Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler as first vice president of the council. Other officers elected included Mrs. Henry Slaboski, second vice president; Mrs. Andrew Lewis, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. B. Ehrgood, recording secretary; Horace Westbrook, treasurer and Mrs. Walter Dreher, registrar.

Members of the board whose terms had expired who were re-elected included Mrs. Roger Acker, Walter Dreher, Joseph McCluskey, Frank LaBar, Mrs. Andrew Lewis, Mrs. William G. Miller, Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Frank Weiss.

Two new members were elected to the board of directors: Mrs. Claude Leister and Mrs. C. B. Ehrgood.

Elected as members of the nominating committee were: Mrs. Wendell Wick, chairman, Horace Westbrook, Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Russell Harmon.

One of the principal reports at the meeting concerned the camping program, with Mrs. William G. Miller, camping chairman, reporting on progress on the new camp building at Camp Lloyd Treble on Mosier's Knob.

Mrs. Miller paid tribute to all the people in the community who have aided in the program. In addition to gifts previously announced, she reported that the B'Nai B'rith lodge had donated $50 to the camping fund, and that C. B. Munsell was donating the paint for the roof.

Mrs. Roger Acker, training chairman, reported that the leaders had a training session at the Scout House on April 22.

Mrs. Harland Bard, president of the Leaders Association, announced their next meeting would be held at Camp Lloyd Treble on Thursday, June 5, when the leaders would work on the camp and have a cookout.

Mrs. Camille Harvey, executive director, gave a comparative report of troops and Scouts, showing an increase of 65 Scouts during the past year bringing the total to 418 Girl Scouts in the county.

The meeting closed with an auction sale of articles brought by the members, with the proceeds going to the camp fund.

Magician, Song Leader Soloist At YFC

Bill Freeland, director of North Penn Youth For Christ, will be the guest of the local group at their meeting on Friday, April 25, at the East Stroudsburg Baptist Church.

Freeland, a Christian layman, was chairman of the Easter Sunrise service held at the Willow Grove Amusement Park this year. He is owner of the Freeland Screw Corporation of Philadelphia.

Richard Kidder, known across the country as "The Great Kidder" will also be on the program. He was a professional magician before turning his talents over to Christian work. He will demonstrate with magic tricks to illustrate Bible scriptures. He is a member of the Oxford Christian Church of Philadelphia.

The third feature of this Friday's program will be Janet Smith, a student at Abington High School, who was voted the best girl soloist in competition with forty high school girls in Eastern Pennsylvania.

The rally is the climax of a busy Spring for the members of the local rally. Last Saturday night, twenty members motored to Philadelphia to attend a Youth For Christ meeting held at the Metropolitan Opera House. Among the 3000 young people at the meeting, the local YFC was recognized by Rev. Walter Smyth, eastern regional director, and introduced.

Two Camps To Sponsor Benefit

Mount Pocono — Mrs. Irene Hartman, president of Camp 235 of the Mt. Pocono, P. O. of A., announces that plans were formulated on Wednesday night at a meeting of the group for a game party to be held on Wednesday night, May 14, at 8 at the P.O. of A. hall in Tannersville.

This party will be sponsored jointly by Camp 235, Mt. Pocono; Camp 151 of Tannersville and the P.O. of A. of Tannersville, the proceeds of which will be used for the maintenance of the hall. There will be prizes and refreshments.

The local camp will also hold a bake sale in Mt. Pocono on Saturday, July 5, further plans for which will be arranged at future meetings.

Mrs. Marie Nelson was appointed as a delegate to the state convention of the P.O. of A. which will be held in Scranton the first week in May. Mrs. Hartman will serve as alternate.

The hostess committee: Mrs. Cassie Gilpin, Mrs. Martha Fisher and Mrs. Anna Frutcher served refreshments, following the meeting.

Allegation By Edwards Answered

Chief Clerk Harry Taylor yesterday discounted an allegation by Harold C. Edwards, delegate-elect to the Democratic national convention, that county commissioners had allowed a "violation" of the election laws Tuesday night.

Referring to the statements made by Edwards in a public letter Taylor said:

"This letter contained so many factual errors that a reply is necessary in order that the citizens of Monroe County may know the truth.

"In his letter, Mr. Edwards alleges that he was informed that the county commissioners' office was locked during the evening as the primary election returns were being received. This is untrue. The county commissioners' office consists of two rooms with a connecting door between. Each of these rooms has a door entering into the main corridor of the Court House. One of these doors was kept locked. The other door was kept wide open at all times until all the ballot boxes were received.

"Mr. Edwards also charged in his letter that various citizens of the county interested in the outcome of the election were denied admission to the office of the county board of elections. This is untrue. The office was kept open on the night of the primary election until all of the ballot boxes and returns had been received from the various election districts and no one was denied admission to the office.

"Mr. Edwards further charged in his letter that no one was permitted to see the unsealed returns from the election boards except the county commissioners themselves and a newspaper reporter. This is untrue. The unsealed returns were available at all times to anyone who desired to see them. At no time during the evening did Mr. Edwards appear at the office of the county commissioners and request permission to see the returns. Instead of one newspaper reporter being present in the office of the county commissioners, there were five newspaper reporters present until the office was closed.

"There is no duty upon the county commissioners acting as the county board of elections to keep a current tabulation of the total votes as they appear in the unsealed returns which are delivered to the county board of elections on the night of the election. The official canvass and tabulation of votes is not made until the Friday following the election.

KULP FOUNDRY WORKERS are shown here pouring molten metal for casting operations which produce supplies for regional and many out-of-state concerns.

Kulp Foundry Is Young But Growing Industry

The eighth of a series of articles dealing with industrial operations in Monroe County is presented today by The Daily Record. Aim of the series is to acquaint all citizens with what is produced here; how it is made, the type of people and skills engaged in such production and the economic impact of each industry on this region.

By James B. Gaffney

Pouring as high as eight and a half tons of molten metal a day, Kulp Foundry, Inc., located on N. Third St., Stroudsburg, is another of the heavy industries in the Stroudsburg area that affords steady employment and makes a valuable contribution to the area's development economically. Starting with the basic materials that go into the making of

Although production for defense work is relatively small, percentage-wise, the sub-contracting work being done helps the war effort. Recently the foundry completed a job for the Army Signal Corps. Much of the work is restricted as concerns public information.

Forty men working at the plant last year drew $113,000 in payrolls and salaries, according to Jesse Kulp, president of the corporation.

Before moving to Stroudsburg Feb. 1, 1947, Kulp had a foundry in Brooklyn, N. Y., he operated for three years. Then in 1947 he joined with his son, John, a molder and Otto Groth, a pattern maker and began the Kulp Foundry, Inc. Members of Kulp's family aid him in conducting the business. His daughter, Mrs. Anna Townsend is secretary-treasurer of the concern; Groth is vice president and Kulp is president.

Kulp has worked in the foundry type business for over 30 years and during that period traveled extensively. He was in Pearl Harbor just before World War Two broke out.

Two selling agents in New York handle the flow of orders, but most of the work at the plant is for Sheridan Machine Co., located in Easton. Kulp said Sheridan has about 2,500 patterns at the local foundry and estimated the over-all pattern total at the plant is 5,000.

Kulp Foundry also makes its own patterns and keeps three men on the night shift to maintain the production flow, readying the plant for the next day's operation.

Explaining the operation of the cupola, large furnace used for melting metal, Kulp said after the fires are started, coke is added to make a bed and then iron, following the same procedure during the continuous operation. His formula which keeps the temperature at 2800 degrees Fahrenheit at the spout, is 565 pounds of iron to 65 pounds of coke.

The temperature must be very hot, Kulp explained, because once it leaves the cupola and is poured by mixing ladles into the castings, the temperature drops continually. Basic materials used in the operation are sand, pig and scrap iron and other alloy elements.

While comparatively new in the local industrial field, Kulp Foundry keeps abreast of production and helps the potential wealth of the region continue growing.

Kiefer Wins Band Group's Annual Award

An enthusiastic 55-piece Stroudsburg High School Band presented its annual spring concert last night at the school auditorium under the direction of John W. Pyle.

Highlights of the one-night performance was a combination band and choral version of Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" featuring both the instrumental and vocal music departments.

The program selected by Pyle and the department held an even balance between the popular, novelty and symphonic band fields of music.

A medley of familiar George Gershwin tunes in a sparkling arrangement by Dave Bennett offered a workout for the combined trumpet and trombone sections and percussion instruments.

In direct contrast to the jazz influences of Gershwin the band offered its own interpretation of Johann Sebastian Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and the slightly "Hungarian Dances" of Brahms and Liszt.

A near-capacity audience was in attendance at the concert.

Peter Kiefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kiefer, Storm St., received the annual Stroudsburg Band Parents Association's "Arion award."

The lone solo performance was contributed by Earl F. Groner Jr., who played "Thoughts of Love" on the trombone, accompanied by the band.

continuous operation. His formula which keeps the temperature at 2800 degrees Fahrenheit at the spout, is 565 pounds of iron to 65 pounds of coke.

It's a "Who's Who" of the Highway!

If you could see a list of all the distinguished people who own and drive the Cadillac car, you would know, beyond any question, that the statement made in this headline is true.

For the roster of Cadillac owners includes literally tens of thousands of the best-known and most respected names of our day... men and women of recognized accomplishment and achievement... leaders in virtually every phase of business, of industry, and of the professions.

There is, as you would expect, excellent reason why these many distinguished motorists, with such varied personalities and interests, have long found a common meeting-ground in Cadillac.

It is because they demand superlative things from their motor cars.

They demand great beauty... a majesty of styling and a luxury of interior that leave literally nothing to be desired. And they have found it in Cadillac!

They demand great performance—that rare combination of power, responsiveness, handling ease and riding comfort that makes every drive a rest and every journey a pleasure. And they have found it in Cadillac!

They demand distinction—dignity and bearing that represent them as persons of standing in their own world of affairs. And they have found it in Cadillac!

Yes, and they demand economy—for even the motorist of means prides himself on his practical wisdom. And it is in Cadillac that they have found outstanding operating economy combined with these great motor car virtues.

Perhaps, as you've been reading this, you've discovered that you, too, would like to find in your motor car the wonderful things these distinguished motorists have found in Cadillac.

If you have—then come in and see us.

One look at the beautiful Golden Anniversary Cadillac—and one ride behind its wheel—will tell you there has never been a more wonderful year for entering your name in the "Who's Who" of the highway!

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Alden "Red" Fetherman is winner of the "Hard Luck" toga for the second straight week and the Stroudsburg High hurler is apparently out to set some sort of a record in this department. Fetherman, co-captain of the baseball team, dropped his second game, in as many starts, yesterday, when Catasauqua used five hits and the same number of walks, plus two wild pitches, to sink the Mountaineers.

However, Fetherman has registered 25 strikeouts in two games, or two every inning, as each Lehigh Valley League game consists of only seven frames. The red headed pitcher has given up only six hits during the same length of service and has been wild enough to allow only six free tickets to first in the same 14 innings. This is winning pitching if this writer ever saw it, but Fetherman has been on the losing end of the score each time, 1-0 against Emmaus, and 2-1 against Catty yesterday.

Stroudsburg itself has faced some top-flight pitching itself in the first two games, being held to a total of eight safeties, three in the Emmaus contest and five against Catty. There's an old saying that a team that doesn't hit can never win, even if it receives the best pitching in the world. Apparently the belief is only too true in the case of the Mountaineers, who haven't found their batting eye to date.

Reports from Catasauqua last night didn't give any rave notices to the umpires who worked yesterday's game. This column has been informed that the boys in blue had a tough time calling them for both clubs. Bill Altier's entry in the Commercial "A" League won a special playoff with the Eagles last night, at Harmon's Recreation, to capture the regular season championship in the circuit.

Art Nuss, ace dash-man on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College track team, has a special reason for attending the Penn Relays today. Art's brother is a member of the Naval Academy track squad and runs in the event immediately following the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Mile Relay. Since Art is a dash specialist, he won't see action in the relay. However, the short distance speedster is making the trip to Philadelphia as manager of the ESSTC group, in order to see his brother run.

Tom Keating, former pitcher with Peekskill, N. Y., when that city was entered in the North Atlantic League, is reported on his way to the St. Louis Cardinals, maybe even next season. The fast-balling right-hander is reportedly doing well with Columbus, O., of the class "AAA" American Association.

Barney Lutz, who formerly managed Carbondale, when the NAL was still in business, is having a tough time as pilot of the Fort Lauderdale entry in the Florida International League, a class "B" circuit. Lutz is feeling mighty low at the present time, as his charges dropped 10 straight ball games. Bernie "Doc" Helman is still carrying the torch for his Pecono Mountains Archery Club, which holds a big match on Sunday.

Chris Kitsos, shortstop with Kingston, N. Y., when that town was represented in the North Atlantic League in 1947, is now on the Springfield, Mass. roster, of the International League. Don Carroll has retired as umpire-in-chief of the Wayne County League. The veteran man-in-blue is reportedly ready to devote his full time to Little League baseball during the coming summer months. Pat Colgan, Carbondale pilot in 1946 and 1947, is back at his Carbondale home for a rest, following a long grind at the training grounds of the Philadelphia Phillies farm clubs.

Kuzava Forces Home Winning Run As Bosox Edge Yankees

Boston (AP) — Relief pitcher Bob Kuzava forced in the winning run by walking Billy Goodman in the 11th inning yesterday to give the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

That pitching misdeed came after catcher Sammy White, who had homered for the first Boston run in the fifth inning, beat out an infield roller, Dom DiMaggio singled and Jim Piersall stroled to load the bases with one out.

Kuzava took over for starter Ed Lopat in the 10th. Two innings previously, the world champions' tricky southpaw had fallen into a 2-2 tie when Gene Stephens, running for Don Lenhardt, who had singled, reached third base on Johnny Mize's wild throw and scored on Clyde Vollmer's fly to left field.

Fetherman Retires 13 On Strikes

Catasauqua — Stroudsburg High school went down to its second straight Lehigh Valley League baseball defeat here yesterday, and once again by the narrow margin of one run, as the Catasauqua Rough Riders escaped with a 2-1 verdict over the Mountaineers. Emmaus had taken the measure of Stroudsburg last week, 1-0, at Gordon Giffels field.

Alden "Red" Fetherman hurled another masterful game for the Mountaineers, giving up only five hits and retiring 13 batters on strikes. Both Catasauqua runs were classified as unearned. Fetherman allowed only one hit while losing to Emmaus last week.

However, five free tickets to first base, two in the second inning, helped pave the way for Fetherman's downfall.

Catty put together two walks, a pair of wild pitches, a stolen base and an error at third base by Jack Newell to produce both runs, which proved enough to win the game.

Stroudsburg made the game close by coming back with a singleton in the top of the sixth inning. Newell opened the frame with a single and a moment later scampered to second on an error by the Catasauqua catcher and then raced home on a one-ply wallop by Gene Caskie.

The Mountaineers, coached by Jerry Stulgaitis, were held to five hits by Ray Fatzinger, who fanned six and allowed three free passes.

Paul "Doc" Lim, Newell, Caskie, Floyd Williams and Karl Weingartner were the only members of the Stroudsburg club capable of hanging out a safety.

Bangor Opens League Season

Bangor — Bangor High school opens its Lehigh-Northampton League season today, after two straight exhibition setbacks, as the charges of Coach Dave Thomas tangle with Copley, on the latter's home field, at 2 p.m.

Although no official announcements were made last night, it is expected that Thomas will send either Dick Cruver or Sherman Schomover to the hill, in an effort to halt the losing habit picked up during the early season action.

Bangor fell before Nazareth in the opening contest of the season, 16-10, then took it on the chin at the hands of Beldvidere earlier this week, 15-0. Both games were played on foreign fields.

Minneapolis (AP) — Bounding Jim Pollard might see action tonight. That welcome news greeted the Minneapolis Lakers when they returned to town for the seventh and final game with the New York Knickerbockers for the National Basketball Association title. Each team has won three games.

Hornsby Like Stern Father With Prodigal Son As Browns' Pilot Finds It Hard To Hide Pride

By Nello Cassai

St. Louis (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, the stone-faced Rajah of baseball, yesterday was like a stern father trying to hide his pride in a spunky son.

He almost smiled in talking about the victory surge of his button-bustin' Browns. Sports writers last year called them the "lowly" Browns. Today they held a lofty perch—first place in the American League.

A fellow named Bobby Cain sugared it up for them Wednesday night with a one-hit performance that whipped the Cleveland Indians, 1-0. Cleveland's Bob Feller gave up only one hit, too, but that was a fatal triple in the first inning to Bobby Young, who scored on a mishandled grounder.

It was the seventh victory in eight games for the Browns and it pushed them to the top of the standings.

As his club whooped it up with newly-won confidence, the gray-haired Rajah tried hard to appear unimpressed after the game.

"Great job of pitching by Cain," said Manager Hornsby. "Fine game. Our boys are hustling. Little goes tomorrow."

Yesterday the blunt Mr. Hornsby elaborated: "Fine game. Our boys are hustling. We're getting the pitching."

Shortstop Marty Marion, who like Hornsby has been with winning teams before, was less reluctant.

"These kids are just plain crazy to play baseball," the ex-Cardinal manager said, "and when you get a bunch of fellows on one club all as eager to play as these Browns, you know anything can happen."

St. Louis fans, who in previous seasons showered most of their attention on the Cardinals, are wildly enthusiastic about the new Browns.

The temperature Wednesday night was as cold—56 degrees—as the pitchers were hot, yet attendance was 7,116. That brought the Brownie home gate this year to 76,916, compared with 22,576 for five playing dates last year.

East Stroudsburg Host To Parkland In Important Tilt

East Stroudsburg High faces probably its stiffest hurdle in the path leading to the Lehigh-Northampton League baseball championship today, when the Cavaliers play host to a strong Parkland High nine at the East Stroudsburg Playground. The contest is scheduled to get under way at 4 p.m.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that Ray Steele, who accounted for 16 strikeouts against Hellertown last Tuesday, would again toe the rubber for the East Stroudsburg contingent, with title hopes riding on the strong right hander's money arm.

Leon Alberts will handle Steele's slants from behind the plate, while John "Juice" Arnt takes care of first base; Jack Sommers, second base; Don France, third base; and Paul "Candy" Miller returns to his usual shortstop berth.

The fly chasing department will feature Harold Litts in left field; Marlin "Ducky" Martz, center, and George Litts in right field. It will be the second league outing of the season for East Stroudsburg.

Financial Difficulties
New York (AP) — Middleweight champion Ray Robinson's demand for a lion's share of a light heavyweight title fight with 175-pound light Joey Maxim yesterday held up the closing of the lucrative June 23 match for Yankee Stadium.

Coolbaugh Rolls Over Barrett, 9-2

Canadians — Gene Neupert pitched eight-hit ball against Barrett High here yesterday, fanned a dozen batters and didn't give up a free ticket to first base, as Coolbaugh hung a 9-2 lacing on the host team, in the opening Monroe County League game for both schools.

Coolbaugh banged out a total of 10 hits against two Barrett pitchers and following the fourth frame the outcome of the game was never in doubt, as the visiting contingent picked up three markers in the third and three in the top of the fourth round.

Barrett came back with its only two markers of the contest in the bottom half of the fourth frame, but Coolbaugh more than matched the Barrett rally with a singleton in the sixth and two in the seventh and final round.

Andy Sapp led the winning attack with three hits in five trips to the plate, and was the only batter in the game to account for more than two safeties.

Dougherty and Roan divided the Barrett pitching chore, with the former being charged with the setback.

North Eliminates South In Amateur Play At Pinehurst

Pinehurst, N. C. (AP)—Frank Strafaci and Mal Galletta, both of New York state; Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and Harry Haverstick Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., yesterday knocked the South completely out of the North and South Amateur Golf tournament.

Each eliminated a Dixie hopeful, including both 1951 finalists, to gain today's 36-hole semi-finals which sends Strafaci against Haverstick and Stranahan against Galletta.

Haverstick furnished the major surprise, a one-up victory over last year's runnerup, Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N. C., in a well played match that saw the 33-year-old automobile agency operator shoot one-under-par golf.

Good Golf
Stranahan spotted defending champion Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., the first two holes and then pulled his game together, playing brilliantly at times for a four and three victory.

Strafaci, two down after three holes, drew even on the fifth against Ben Goodes, then battled the Reidsville, N. C., laundryman in an up-and-down struggle which ended on the 19th hole.

The 41-year-old Galletta, from St. Albans, N. Y., built up a big early lead and then fought off the belated challenge by Ed Gravelly of Rocky Mount, N. C., for a four and three victory.

Haverstick's drive on the 18th was in the rough and he put his second shot in a trap but a great explosion left him a five-foot putt which he canned for a match-saving half in par fours. The Pennsylvania shot 71, one-under-par for the 7,007-yard number two course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to Section 2 of the Act of June 25, 1947, P. L. 1145, its amendments and transfers, that the School District of Stroud Township, Monroe County, Pennsylvania, intends to adopt a resolution levying a $10.00 per capita tax for school purposes at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said School District to be held on 12th day of May, 1952, at Seven o'clock, Eastern Standard Time. The reason which, in the judgment of the Board of Directors of said School District, justifies the levying of this tax is that the present revenues of the School District are not sufficient to pay salary increases of the teaching staff, to pay the cost of repairs and maintenance of equipment, furniture and buildings; to pay the cost of additional paper and stationery; to pay a portion of the rental obligation of said School District under a contract with the State Public School Building Authority. The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from this tax is $10,000.00.
By Order of the Board of Directors
LORING H. CRAMER, President
LILLIAN SHOOK, Secretary
SCHOOL DISTRICT OF STROUD TOWNSHIP
NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed bids will be received by the Borough of Stroudsburg for furnishing material and performing the labor necessary to construct approximately 200 lineal feet of concrete curb and gutter on Mill Alley and approximately 80 lineal feet of concrete curb and gutter on Main Street, Stroudsburg, Pa. Copies of plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the Stroudsburg Borough Secretary in the Municipal Building, Stroudsburg, Pa. Copies of the said documents may be obtained upon payment of Ten Dollars ($10.00) for each set which sum will be refunded to all actual bidders upon return of each set in good condition at the time of presenting their bids, or else the deposit will be forfeited.
Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $100.00 drawn in favor of the Borough of Stroudsburg. The certified check will be retained as liquidated damages in case the successful bidder shall neglect or refuse to enter into a contract in accordance with his bid.
The successful bidder is required to furnish a Performance Bond in the amount of $100.00 drawn in favor of the Borough of Stroudsburg, Pa. not later than 7:30 o'clock P. M. (E.D.T.) May 1, 1952, at which time said bids will be opened and read in open Room of the Council in the Council Room of the Borough Building. The Borough Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
